Free Project Management Books Announced for February Drawing

February drawing through PM World Library to feature 11 project management books for some lucky winners

7 February 2015 – Dallas, London, Sydney – Eleven project management books are being offered for the February 2015 drawing in the FREE BOOKS program through the PM World Library (PMWL). The monthly drawings for free books at www.pmworldlibrary.net began in February 2014 in connection with the official unveiling of the new online library. The drawings have proven popular and are continuing in 2015 with support from authors and publishers.

Working in partnership with authors and publishers, a number of project management books are offered as prizes for monthly drawings. A random number drawing of fully registered library members is held at the end of each month for the books, to be delivered at no cost to lucky winners. Books for upcoming drawings are posted on the PM World Library home page and in the PM World Journal. For more information about the drawings for FREE BOOKS, click here.

According to David Pells, PMWL Managing Director, “We are happy with the books that have been offered so far this year. As we expect one or two more publishers to jump into this program, more titles will be added in coming weeks. So check back.”

To win, one must be a fully registered member of the PMWL. To see FREE BOOKS offered for more upcoming drawings, CLICK HERE. To learn more about the PMWL, go to www.pmworldlibrary.net.

“Some of the prizes are now eBooks,” Pells adds, “which can be delivered much more easily and faster to winners around the world. In fact, winners in January picked the eBooks first, which was interesting. Maybe that’s the way we should go in the future, although I’m personally old school and prefer to read hard copies.”
