

For Immediate Release

Free PM World Library access for residents of Nepal

Free scholar level access to library now available for residents of Nepal and other low income countries

16 May 2015 – Dallas, London, Sydney – PM World has announced that it is making access to its new Scholar membership level in the PM World Library free to residents of Nepal and other low income countries. Free access to professionals in countries included in the World Bank's list of low income countries was previously available for basic member access. The entire PM World Library is now being opened up to residents of those countries.

According to David Pells, managing director of the PM World Library, "Following the devastating earthquakes in Nepal last week, we want to make any resources in the library available to those who may be involved in recovery and redevelopment projects there. Our new scholar membership includes access to EBSCO's massive business publications database where any number of articles, books and publications may be useful in Nepal and other low income countries. Now whatever resources we have in the library are available to those who might need them the most."

"Tom Taylor, president of APM in the UK, contacted me this week," Pells adds. "Tom suggested that we do something for our friends in the Project Management Association of Nepal, of which we are both honorary members. This is the least we can do, and the fastest option. I hope readers in Nepal and other similar situations can benefit."

To see the list of low income countries, click here.

To register for the free membership, click here. Note: those registering for the free membership must be using a computer with an IP address in the low income country.

Effective 1 May 2015, PM World announced a new PMWL Scholar membership, to provide access to several massive EBSCO databases of business and management books, magazines, journals and other publications. Access is also available to those signing up for the Free Trial memberships. (If you've gone through a free trial membership previously, please send an email to info@pmworldlibrary.net so you can be set you up for another free trial.)

The PM World Library (PMWL) is a global resource for continuous learning in portfolio, program and project management (P/PM). The PMWL is produced and maintained by PM World which also publishes the monthly PM World Journal (PMWJ), a web-based publication featuring dozens of articles, papers and stories about projects and project management around the world. To see the latest edition of the PMWJ, visit www.pmworldjournal.net; to learn more, visit www.pmworldlibrary.net.