Professor Ruta Ciutiene in Lithuania named International Academic Advisor for PM World

Kaunas University of Technology professor joins PM World Journal and Library academic advisory team

21 May 2015 – Dallas, London, Sydney, Vilnius – PM World has announced that Prof Ruta Ciutiene has joined the organization's academic advisory board for the PM World Journal and PM World Library. Prof Ciutiene is head of the project management Master's degree program at Kaunas University of Technology in Kaunas, Lithuania. She joins an international team of academic leaders who provide advice and feedback to the PM World editorial team.

Prof Ruta Ciutiene holds a PhD in Management and Administration. Since 2001 she has worked in various positions at Kaunas University of Technology, where from 2012 she is a professor in the Department of Management and Manager of the Project Management Master Degree study program. From 2014 she also is a Product Development Director in the Executive School of Economics and Business School. She teaches several courses in project management not only for economics and business, but for engineering students also.

Human resources management in projects and engineering project issues are her main scientific fields of interest. She has practical experience in working with business and public sector development projects. She also trains and consults businesses and the public sector in project management processes. At the same time she coordinates, manages and participates in local and international studies and business development projects as well as scientific. Further, she works as an external evaluator on international projects.

Not only will Prof Ciutiene provide academic perspective but she will also act as an occasional International Correspondent for Lithuania, reporting on important developments affecting the project management profession there.

According to David Pells, managing editor of the PM World Journal, "We are honored to have Ruta Ciutiene join our academic advisory team. She comes highly recommended, I have already seen some of her published works and we welcome her involvement. I also look forward to learning more about her project management program at Kaunas University of Technology."

According to Professor Ciutiene, "I also look forward to working with Mr. Pells and his editorial team for the journal and library. The interest in project management education and knowledge is growing rapidly in Lithuania and other Baltic countries. This new connection to PM World should be beneficial to everyone."
