PMI Announces 2012 Award Recipients in Vancouver

21 October 2012 – Vancouver, BC, Canada – The Project Management Institute (PMI®), the world’s largest association for project managers, announced the recipients of its 2012 awards on Saturday, 20 October at the Vancouver Convention Centre. The awards ceremony was held in conjunction with the PMI® Global Congress 2012—North America.

“This year’s recipients represent the individuals, accomplishments and talent that will define the next generation of project management excellence,” said Mark A. Langley, president and CEO of PMI (pictured at right). “They have provided a roadmap for future project managers to follow. PMI commends their achievements, commitment to success and continued contribution to the project management profession.”
