Registration open for PMI Research and Education Conference 2014

14 May 2014 – Newtown Square, Pennsylvania, USA – Registration is open for the PMI Research and Education Conference 2014 being held during 27-29 July 2014 in Portland, Oregon, USA. Participants will engage in dialogue around the conference theme, “Standing on the Shoulders of Giants: In Search of Theory and Evidence.” Researchers, academics, practitioners, consultants, students and anyone interested in project management research are welcome to attend.

Attend to network, exchange ideas, gain knowledge, earn PDUs and hear exciting new insights from world-class project, program and portfolio management experts.

The conference is a great venue for academics to hear from practitioners about current/pressing issues in the field that need further investigation, and for practitioners to hear about current research and what the takeaways are for practice. With over 70 sessions in 4 tracks, attendees will have many opportunities to discuss new research findings and teaching methods.

The PMI Research Conference 2014 program includes:

- Plenary presentations by Jack Meredith, Anne Huff, and other renowned researchers to be announced on important topics from varied management disciplines
- Peer-reviewed paper presentations, poster sessions, symposia and interactive workshops across various thematic tracks in research and education
- Pre-conference events featuring a GAC Academic Forum on employability and a Teaching Case Workshop led by Gina Vega, Editor of the Case Journal
- PMI Research Awards Luncheon

Hosted at the beautiful Portland Downtown Waterfront Marriott, the Research and Education Conference is an excellent opportunity to network in a world-class setting. Relax and enjoy receptions, pre-conference events, general sessions and more as you meet with friends and colleagues from around the globe.

Space is limited and early registration is strongly recommended. Early discounted registration is open now through 30 June 2014. To register, go to http://copevents.pmi.org/rec-2014/home. For further information contact recinfo@pmi.org
