

PMWL “New in the Library” posting

For New in the Library

PMI: Success rates rise

Access to PMI’s 2017 Global Project Management Survey added to PMWL

Resource provided by Aizhan Aliakbarova

24 July 2017 – Almaty, Kazakhstan – A new resource has been added to the PM World Library related to professional project management. The new resource is titled “Success rates rise: Transforming the high cost of low performance – PMI’s 9th Global Project Management Survey”. The report was funded and published by the Project Management Institute (PMI).

PMI’s latest Pulse of the Profession® research suggests a positive change in the way organizations are managing projects and programs. For the first time in five years, more projects are meeting original goals and business intent and being completed within budget. This report, PMI’s annual survey of project management practitioners and leaders, represents feedback from 3,234 professionals globally who represent different levels within organizations from diverse industries.

To access this new resource, go to <https://pmworldlibrary.net/ppm-profession/>, click on “P/PM Professional Organizations”, then click on “Global P/PM Professional Organizations”, scroll down to Pulse of the Profession. Free to download, but must be a registered and logged in member to access.

For PMWL Post

Success rates rise: Transforming the high cost of low performance – PMI’s latest Pulse of the Profession® research suggests a positive change in the way organizations are managing projects and programs. For the first time in five years, more projects are meeting original goals and business intent and being completed within budget. This report, PMI’s annual survey of project management practitioners and leaders, represents feedback from 3,234 professionals globally who represent different levels within organizations from diverse industries. To read report, click here. (Aliakbarova)

PMWL page url for post: <https://pmworldlibrary.net/ppm-profession/ppm-professional-organizations/global-multi-national-ppm-professional-organizations/>

Conducted since 2006, PMI’s Pulse of the Profession® is the global survey of project management practitioners. The Pulse charts the major trends for project management now and in the future. It features original market research that reports feedback and insights from project, program, and portfolio managers, along with an analysis of third-party data.