24 December, 2017– Rome, Italy – Access to a new resource has been added to the PM World Library (PMWL) related to project management tools and technology. The new resource is an article titled “10 Signs You Desperately Need a New Project Management Tool”. This article is a blog post by Kristi Hines on workzone.com.

The main purpose for using a project management tool is to improve productivity, communication, and organization between those who manage projects, those who are responsible for tasks within the projects, and the clients those projects are for. But what if your project management tool isn't helping you in all of those areas? This article describes 10 signs that you are in desperate need of a new project management tool.

To access this new resource, go to the Applications and Hot Topics section of the PMWL at <https://pmworldlibrary.net/applications-and-topics/>, click on “PM Tools and Technologies”, scroll down to articles. Must be registered and logged-in as Free Trial, Professional or Scholar Member to access.
