According to PM World Library Director David Pells, "We welcome these dynamic graduate students to our research internship program. Each student was referred to us by a sponsoring professor; they already understand the likelihood of encountering project work during their careers and the need for more project management knowledge. I'm sure they will gain some very useful information during their internships."

PM World offers virtual project management research internships to university students worldwide who are studying project management at recognized universities. Internships offer students an opportunity to research specific program/project management topics, network with other interns, gain significant visibility and contribute to PM World's dual missions of knowledge sharing and continuous learning related to program and project management around the world. Interns also receive five years of free PMWL membership. To see participating university interns, go to <http://pmworldlibrary.net/university-interns/>

The PM World Library (PMWL) is a global resource for continuous learning in programme and project management.
