

Knowledge Transfer in Shipbuilding Projects

Access to study related to facilitating knowledge transfer in the Marine, Shipping, Sea Transport Industry added to PMWL

Resource provided by Ömer Berkay Dağlı

30 January 2018 – Southampton, UK – Access to a new resource has been added to the PM World Library on the subject of project management in Marine, Shipping and Sea Transport Industries. The new resource is titled “Knowledge Transfer in Shipbuilding Projects: A Study of Facilitating Mechanisms” and is a 2012 research paper prepared by Solli-Sæther and Karlsen, published in the International Journal of Project Organisation and Management.

Research focused on the importance of knowledge transfer in shipbuilding projects. With input from a literature review and a case study on the Siem Offshore programme that is a broad base of shipbuilding practice, article illustrates the importance of knowledge transfer and sharing in projects.

To access this report, go to the Industries and Organizations section of the library at <https://pmworldlibrary.net/industries-and-organizations/>, scroll down and click on “Marine, Shipping, Sea Transport Industry”. Must be registered and logged in as Free Trial, Professional or Scholar member to access.

For PMWL Post

Knowledge Transfer in Shipbuilding Projects: A Study of Facilitating Mechanisms - A 2012 research prepared by Solli-Sæther and Karlsen, published in the International Journal of Project Organisation and Management. With inputs from a literature review and a case study on Siem Offshore programme that is a broad base of shipbuilding practice, article illustrates the importance of knowledge transfer and sharing in projects. To read paper, click here. (Dağlı)

URL of resource:

https://brage.bibsys.no/xmlui/bitstream/handle/11250/93774/SolliKarlsen_2012_IJPOM.pdf?sequence=1

Where to post in the library: <https://pmworldlibrary.net/marine-shipping-sea-transport/>