Sapienza University graduate student completes PM Research Internship

Faith Onwunalu in Rome completes PM World Library research internship program

10 May 2018 – Rome, Italy and Dallas, TX, USA – PM World has announced that Faith Onwunalu, a graduate student at Sapienza University in Rome has completed a PM World Library project management research internship. Ms. Onwunalu completed the 20-week program in late April 2018.

Faith Onwunalu is currently pursuing her Master's degree in Computer Science at the Sapienza University (State University of Italy) in ROME, LAZIO, ITALY. She holds a Higher National Diploma in Computer Science from Delta State Polytechnic, Ozoro, Nigeria. During four years of professional experience, Faith held titles such as Computer Instructor, Maths/Computer Science Teacher. Her major field of study is Computer Science. Her research interests include Information Systems, Project Management, Networks and Security.

According to PM World Library Director David Pells, “Faith started her internship last June, took some time off to visit Nigeria, then came back and finished her internship this year with some tremendous resources. She was very active in March and April, providing new resources related to basic PM, cybersecurity and other topics.”

According to Ms. Onwunalu, “Thank you for this opportunity to learn more about project management; it really complemented my university studies. It was also interesting to read the PM World Journal and to see so many authors from Nigeria represented in both your journal and library. Perhaps I can meet some of them after my study in Rome.”

Pells added, “Faith became more enthusiastic as her internship progressed. Her latest research results were highly useful, especially those related to cybersecurity for project managers. This is an important topic for every project, project manager and organization today. We definitely appreciated her good work.”

PM World offers virtual project management research internships to university students worldwide who are studying at recognized universities. Internships offer students an opportunity to research specific program/project management topics, network with other interns, gain visibility and enhance their CVs.
