6 May 2018 – Mumbai, India – Access to a new resource has been added to the PM World Library on the subject of Women in Project Management. The new resource is titled "Women Project Managers: The Exploration of Their Job Challenges and Issue Selling Behaviors". Resource is an article by Linda S. Henderson, Richard W. Stackman and Charles Y. Koh, published in International Journal of Managing Projects in Business in 2013.

Women are progressively taking up various challenges at every stage of their careers. Opportunities are up for grabs, but how easy is it for a woman to showcase her talent in this competitive world? Linda S. Henderson, Richard W. Stackman and Charles Y. Koh undertook the task of exploring women project managers, the project context within which they work and to promote new research-based ideas for optimizing their potential in business organizations. After various quantitative and qualitative methods, insights into advantages and disadvantages for professional women and other questions have been analysed.
