15 September 2018 – Southampton, UK – Access to a new resource has been added to the PM World Library (PMWL) related to Intuition in Project Management. The new resource is titled “Preparing the Mind for Dynamic Project Management”, a paper by Hartman Francis and published in 2008 in the International Journal of Project Management.

The author described the best project manager model in this article. Furthermore, the author utilized neuroscience to improve project management education. The places for using intuition and improvisation were identified by the author. Readers can understand the meaning of using intuition and improvisation, and recognize the skills that project managers need to be successful.

To access this new resource, go to the Applications and Hot Topics section of the library at <https://pmworldlibrary.net/applications-and-topics/>, scroll down and click on “Intuition in Project Management”, scroll down to the resource. Must be a registered member and logged-in to access.
