2 October 2018 – Almaty, Kazakhstan – Access to a new resource has been added to the PM World Library (PMWL) related to solving global problems. The new resource is titled “Congress of the Leaders of World and Traditional Religions” and is a gathering of religious leaders organized by the President of Kazakhstan to promote peace and nonviolence.

At the present time, there are more than 100 representatives of ethnic groups and 18 faiths living in peace and harmony in Kazakhstan. The President of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Nursultan Nazarbayev, puts forward an initiative to hold a Congress of the Leaders of World and Traditional Religions in the capital of the Republic of Kazakhstan - the city of Astana. According to Nursultan Nazarbayev, at the 1st congress, in order to surmount actual problems and threats such as violence, religious extremism and terrorism, it is essential to establish and contribute the dialogue between the leaders of world and traditional religions, based on trust and mutual understanding. These meetings have been held since 2003 and continue.

To access this new resource, go to the Solving Global Problems section of the library at <https://pmworldlibrary.net/solving-global-problems/>, click on “Reducing Conflicts and Wars”, scroll down to resource. Must be registered and logged-in to access.

For PMWL Post

Congress of the Leaders of World and Traditional Religions. The 1st Congress was originated in September 2003 in Astana, Kazakhstan. It has taken place at least once every three years to help solve interreligious problems. Participation is by authoritative representatives of Islam, Christianity, Judaism, Shintoism, Hinduism and Buddhism. The dialogue among religious leaders, based on mutual trust and understanding, is intended to discover comprehensive solutions for overcoming violence, extremism and terrorism.
