

International Academic Advisor

Prof. Rolf Lundin, PhD

Jönköping International Business School
Jönköping, Sweden

Rolf A Lundin is a professor (Em.) of Business Administration at the Jönköping International Business School (JIBS) and a Courtesy Professor-in-Residence at the Umeå School of Business and Economics (USBE). He received his PhD in 1973 at the University of Chicago (now the Booth Business School) in Management Science. He has been a full professor since 1978, first at the business school of the University of Umeå (in northern Sweden), where he was also the founding dean of that school. In 2001 he was recruited to dean JIBS. He stepped down as dean in 2007. Since then he has been affiliated with the Media Management and Transformation Center. He has several publications in the management of projects and temporary organization area and is currently serving on the board for the PMI Global Accreditation Center which is working with accreditation of project management educational programs around the world. His current research focus is on the use of projects in media industries. Rolf is active in the Swedish Project Academy. He can be contacted at Rolf.A.Lundin@ju.se.

Rolf Lundin is co-author of Managing and Working in Project Society: Institutional Challenges of Temporary Organizations, published in 2015 by Cambridge University Press and winning the 2016 PMI Book of the Year award.

To view works by Prof Lundin that have been published in the PM World Journal, visit his author showcase in the PM World Library at <http://pmworldlibrary.net/authors/rolf-a-lundin/>

Profile updated March 2019