Sagar Gogate in India completes PM Research Internship

Graduate student at SDA Bocconi Asia Center in Mumbai completes PM World Library research internship program

25 October 2019 – Mumbai, India and Dallas, TX, USA – PM World has announced that Sagar Gogate, a graduate student at the SDA Bocconi Asia Center in Mumbai, India, successfully completed a PM World Library project management research internship in September.

Sagar Gogate is currently pursuing his International Master-in-Business degree at SDA Bocconi Asia Center, Mumbai, India for the academic year 2018-2020. He holds an engineering degree in Electronics from Nagpur University (India), where he studied from 2010-2014.

From 2014 to 2016 Sagar also worked as a software engineer for Larsen & Toubro Infotech, Bangalore. He was involved in multiple ETL (Extract, Transform, Load) projects for data warehouses.

These applications consume data from heterogenous sources and load it into the database in an organized fashion. From 2016 to 2018 he worked as a senior software engineer where he was involved in designing, building and maintaining technical infrastructure for data warehousing and regulatory applications for data centres located in APAC, NAM, LATAM and EMEA regions.

Major Field of Study: Operations, Finance, Engineering; Research interests: Operations management, IT and Management Information System implementations, MIS adoption by an organization, project management of public projects in India, stakeholder analysis in public projects, feasibility search for a new product/service, impact of disruptive technologies.

According to PM World Library Director David Pells, “Sagar Gogate performed some excellent research for us from January through July this year. He took six weeks off during the summer, then completed his research commitment on 20 September, delivering the final seven research results at one time. He researched some interesting topics and provided links to some useful resources, on timely topics that should be of interest to many.”

According to Sagar, “Thank you very much. It was indeed a great learning experience. I consider it my privilege to work for you and PM World Library. If there is any other opportunity in future, please let me know. I would be more than happy to contribute to the PM World Library.”

Pells added, “Much of Sagar’s research was related to global problems such as air and water pollution, climate change and renewable energy, which was great. We try to motivate student researchers to consider project management in the context of addressing environmental and social issues. Sagar came highly recommended by Professor Marco Sampietro at SDA Bocconi in Milan, who teaches courses in Mumbai. Thank you again, Sagar and also Professor Sampietro!”

PM World offers virtual project management research internships to university students worldwide who are studying at recognized universities. Internships offer students an opportunity to research specific program/project management topics, network with other interns, gain visibility and enhance their CVs.
