2019 PMWJ Editor's Choice Awards – Articles

Awards announced for articles published in the PM World Journal during 2018

14 February 2020 – Dallas, London, Sydney – PM World has announced the winners of Editor's Choice Awards for articles published in the PM World Journal (PMWJ) during 2019. A total of 113 original articles were published in the PMWJ in 2019, in the series articles, advisories, commentaries and creative works categories. Seven articles by authors in four countries were selected for the 2018 awards.

Editor's Choice Awards are selected each year by the Managing Editor of the PMWJ based on originality, potential impact on the practice and profession of program/project management, and quality of the work. All articles published in the PMWJ are highly original, very interesting and useful to many readers, and some are very entertaining. According to PMWJ Managing Editor David Pells, "We were very happy with the number and quality of articles published in the journal last year. Some author provided multiple articles that qualified; in some cases it was difficult to select a single article from an author. Nevertheless, we keep it to one award per author. So these were the ones I found most memorable, most significant. I hope our readers agree. At least this news article will help readers find seven very good articles."

Registered with the US Library of Congress (ISSN 2330-4480) and indexed by EBSCO, the PM World Journal (PMWJ) is a web-based monthly publication featuring dozens of articles, papers and other works about projects and project management around the world. The PMWJ is produced and maintained by PM World which also operates the PM World Library (PMWL), a global resource for continuous learning in programme and project management.
