2019 Editor's Choice Awards – Papers Category

Awards announced for seven featured papers published in the PM World Journal during 2019

14 February 2020 – Dallas, London, Sydney – PM World has announced the winners of Editor's Choice Awards for papers published in the PM World Journal (PMWJ) during 2019. Fifty-seven original featured papers were published in the PMWJ in 2019, by authors around the world. Seven papers by authors in seven different countries were selected for special recognition.

Editor's Choice Awards are selected each year by the Managing Editor of the PMWJ based on originality, potential impact on the practice and profession of program/project management, and quality of the paper. All papers considered were conference-quality, fully referenced, research papers. To learn more about PMWJ Author Awards, visit <https://peworldjournal.com/awards>

Winners of the 2019 PMWJ Editor's Choice Awards in the Papers category were the following, with title, author's name, location and date published in the PMWJ shown (click on title to read a paper):

According to PMWJ Managing Editor David Pells, “We published a lot of good papers in 2019, many deserving of more recognition. These seven, however, addressed current topics in the project management field, were well researched and well written and, in some case, were highly entertaining and fun to read. All of these authors and papers significantly advanced the global PM body of knowledge, in our opinion. Congratulations to the authors for outstanding work!”
