

For Immediate Release

Retfalvi and Associates launches online Project Management Leadership Excellence Development Program

New online program provides valuable education for busy project managers of all levels

31 May 2020 – DALLAS / OTTAWA – Retfalvi and Associates has announced the launch of the online Project Management Leadership Excellence Development Program, designed to support project managers in their professional development activities.

The program consists of ten online interactive e-learning sessions, each of which provide an excellent opportunity to build critical leadership competencies and capacity in Project Managers of all levels and industries.

“The content in the Project Management Leadership Excellence Development Program is versatile and can be applied to anyone working in or around the field of project management” noted Laszlo Retfalvi, General Manager of Retfalvi and Associates. “Whether participants are seasoned practitioners looking to refresh their skills or find new ideas, or someone just beginning their transition into the field, our program can provide valuable knowledge, expertise and ideas.”

The program - which is offered fully online - can be offered to the public as individual sessions, or as coach-led packages for teams and organizations facing necessary changes in the way they conduct in-person training. This approach offers maximum flexibility to those seeking e-learning solutions while ensuring that participants are taking away key knowledge and best practices that can be applied immediately in day-to-day project activities.

“Online live training sessions provide outstanding value to busy individuals and organizations,” said Retfalvi. “An investment in project management leadership training and/or coaching can significantly reduce schedule overruns, cost of delays or unexpected project failures.”

For more information, including a schedule of upcoming sessions, please visit www.retfalviandassociates.com.

Established in 2009, Retfalvi and Associates Incorporated (RAI) is a professional services company based in Ottawa, Canada. RAI provides high caliber project management, risk management, and project management leadership consulting, coaching, and training solutions to meet today's demanding business needs.