Angelica Larios appointed PMWJ Correspondent in Mexico

Former PMI Mexico City Chapter President joins International Correspondents Team for PM Word Journal

25 June 2020 – Mexico City, Mexico and Dallas, TX, USA – PM World has announced the appointment of Angelica Larios, PMP as an International Correspondent for the PM World Journal (PMWJ) in Mexico. Angelica Larios, MBA, PMP, is the owner of ALACONTEC, an I.T. consulting company founded in Latin America.

Angelica is a project manager with more than 20 years of experience in implementing software projects related to business intelligence, planning and budgeting, and financial consolidation solutions based on software applications to support the business decision process. She has held several professional positions in private and public organizations, such as the Health Ministry in Mexico as I.T. director, and as a business manager for several firms in Mexico.

She holds a master's degree in business administration and a bachelor's degree in computer science from National University of Mexico (UNAM) in addition to her studies in project management and her Project Management Professional (PMP)® certification, which have helped her to consolidate her career and have a better understanding of what businesses and projects need nowadays. She is a doctoral student in strategic leadership at Regent University, VA, USA.

Angelica has been a PMI volunteer since 2007 starting in the local Mexico chapter, where she is a Past President. She currently serves on the Board Volunteer Advisory Committee (BVAC) that supports the PMI Board of Directors.

According to PMWJ editor David Pells, "We are honored, and quite lucky, to have Angelica Larios join our correspondents team in Mexico City. Angelica has authored several articles for the PMWJ this year, through which I have gotten to know her background and her depth of project management knowledge. Her articles have been sound and useful; I suspect her future articles and reports will be even more interesting."

Angelica stated, "Thank you for this opportunity. I was happy to learn about the PM World Journal last year, to publish some articles and then to learn about your long friendship with Russell Archibald, a great friend to the PMI Mexico chapter. Now I look forward to sharing news from my country with your readers, even as we deal with so many challenges caused by the coronavirus pandemic.”

Pells added, “Angelica knew Russ Archibald well, as he was a keynote speaker for and strong supporter of the PMI Mexico City Chapter. Russ always spoke highly of the Mexico City chapter leaders. I am very happy to welcome Angelica to our team.”

PM World correspondents are located in various countries, reporting news about local and regional projects and project management organizations, events and developments. To see current correspondents and to follow their work, visit <https://pmworldlibrary.net/international-correspondents/>
