Wideman PM Website updates announced for December 2020

1 December 2020 – Ontario, Canada – Max Wideman has announced updates to his popular project management website, www.maxwideman.com. According to Max, this month we've posted the following:

Papers: Case study: Major construction project to build a permanent "Olympic Village" to house athletes for the 2010 Winter Olympics held in Vancouver BC Canada. Analyze three post project financial reviews together with on-line material and report: success or failure?

Guests: Jeremy Reynolds and R. Max Wideman recommend introducing project management in the K12 education stream as an essential life skill that would provide positive and adaptive behavior. It would also enable students to deal with modern everyday challenges as well as provide a valuable learning experience for their future world of work.

Musings: Annemarie Fowler offers Seven rules for writing a Professional-Looking Email in English. Whether it is to your boss, your client, a business colleague, your professor, or job interview recruiter, all need to reflect your capability, clarity, and professionalism.

Project management tip of the month

The quality principle:
Good quality is not free, it's an investment.
