

PM NEWS

Wideman PM Website updates announced for April 2021

1 April 2021 – Ontario, Canada – Max Wideman has announced updates to his popular project management website, www.maxwideman.com. According to Max (pictured), this month we've posted the following:

Papers: A Book Review of Craig B. Smith's book How the Great Pyramid was built at Giza, in Egypt. Craig has had a long career in managing large construction projects. Hence he is well positioned to apply present-day knowledge to develop a case study describing the construction methods and challenges that must have been involved in creating this monument 4,500 years ago. This is a fascinating book as it works its way in detail through our current understanding of project management practices.

Guests: Rod Robertson describes his three steps in handling Workers who won't get vaccinated. While this may not be strictly "project management", it can certainly be a problem for those project managers who are working on site, or indoors working in groups.

Musings: Unlike in most careers, interviewing for a position (on a project) is a regular necessity, even if it does not involve a change in employer. Once again, Angela Civitella comes to the rescue with Five Things Hiring Managers Expect, but won't necessarily tell you.

~~~~~

If you are looking for answers, guidelines or templates, check out Max's Issacons - "Issues and Considerations" - that are presented in bullet form for quick and easy reference by project managers.

Have you seen Max's book A Management Framework for Project, Program and Portfolio Integration? For information or to order a copy, visit http://www.maxwideman.com/papers/framework\_book/intro.htm.

Max Wideman is one of the world's best-known project management authorities. An engineer and professional project manager, his experience includes systems, social and environmental projects, as well as design and engineering projects. He is a Fellow of the Project Management Institute, of which he is past president and chairman and for which he led the development of the 1987 version of the Project Management Body of Knowledge. He is also a Fellow of the Institution of Civil Engineers (UK), the Engineering Institute of Canada, and the Canadian Society of Civil Engineering. His personal web site at <http://www.maxwideman.com> is a source of superior project management knowledge and information. It is free to the public.