List of 18 out of 30 global thought leaders who would address the WPMF2021

All timings are at (GMT+5.30 hrs). Participants from all over the world can view either Live or Recorded Videos on any one the 3 days.

15 Dec.
11.00-11.55

Adesh Jain (India) is the Chairman of the International Institute of Projects and Program Management (i2P2M) and the founder of the World Project Management Forum (WPMF). In 2010, his postal stamp (limited edition) was released by the Government of Turkey in recognition of his global contribution - a visionary leader shaping the PM profession globally.

Topic: Project Creation in Today's Disruptive World

One needs to consciously make oneself globally competitive. A major challenge to the human brain is to fight for its own survival in this new social and technological age. Project creation needs to keep agility in this emerging reality of disruptive change.

15 Dec.
14.00-14.55

Prof. Dr. Ralf Müller (Norway) is Professor of Project Management at BI Norwegian Business School. He lectures and researches in leadership, governance, and OPM. His research appeared in more than 280 academic publications. A recent study by Stanford University placed him among the top 2 percent of the most influential scientists worldwide. Prior to his academic career, he spent 30 years in the industry.

Topic: Meta-governance and Multi-level Governance of Inter-Organizational Networks for projects

Based on studies of complex large and megaprojects in the construction industry, the presentation outlines the meta-governance dimensions that steer the development of governance structures for networks of networks of organizations which, in turn, impact the multi-level governance.

15 Dec.
15.00-15.55

Oliver Maeckel (Germany) is Vice President and Partner at Siemens Advanta Consulting, Germany. He has been with Siemens AG since 1997. The focus of his current work is, in particular, the development and delivery of "first-of-its-kind" large-scale projects and especially the digitization of project business processes. Over the last years, he and his team have supported more than 200 major and mega projects in the pre-sale, sales and execution phase.

Topic: Mega projects – raw diamonds or raw eggs?

Mega projects are raw eggs, developed well they will change to raw diamonds instead. The number of large projects continues to grow over the last decades. Nonetheless, these projects are more than often the first of their kind and therefore moving the final frontier. Scaling up things and working in this area is often risky due to many new situations and uncertainties. Developed, created and executed with excellence, the eggs will become diamonds. Presentation will deal with the problems faced and emerging risks leading to solutions.

15 Dec.
16.00-17.30

Roberto Mori (Italy) MScEng has a rich background in Project Management of turn-key projects of industrial plants having covered several roles in Tenova, one of the World leaders for iron, steel and mining technologies retiring with the position of Director –Operations. Was Former President of IPMA Italy-ANIMP and President, IPMA. Is a well-known Trainer on project, risk and contract management. (Will Chair the GA Panel)

Topic: Global Advisors Panel on New Challenges for Project Management

Until the outbreak of the pandemic, the world had already seen an exponential growth of areas, sectors, activities characterized by the VUCA context. However, the pandemic has suddenly ended this process, plunging us all into a disruptive world that is likely to be the new global norm for a long time to come. This implies that new projects have to be conceived, created and implemented that were unthinkable two years ago. The panellists will present their vision of the future projects world from the perspective of their different cultures and backgrounds.

Professor Dr. Hiroshi Tanaka (Japan)

Raphael Albergarias (Brazil)

Rüdiger Geist (Switzerland)

Antonio Nieto-Rodriguez (Brussels)

16 Dec.
10.00-10.55

Professor Dr. Hiroshi Tanaka (Japan) is in the forefront of global PM community over the past half century. He is professor of strategy and project management. Is a well-known PPM trainer covering Asia, Africa, Europe and Latin America. Is the founder and past president of Project Management Association of Japan (PMAJ).

Topic: Agility in Corporate Enterprises Realized by Applied Project Management

COVID-19 pandemic, VUCA/ BANI environment, global sustainability commandment, and disruptive technology have changed the landscape of industry and society. Project management needs to respond to this global transition.

16 Dec.
11.00-11.55

Veikko is a former President and Secretary General of the International Project Management Association (IPMA). He has lived in 5 countries and worked in more than 50 countries.

Concluding Session: 16.00-17.25

Topic: How to evolve from knowledge to competence? A perspective of career development: Learn, Unlearn, Relearn

“The illiterate of the future are not those who can't read or write but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn.” Alvin Toffler

Topic: Wisdom Sharing – Lessons Learnt for Future

In this panel discussion, each of the eight participants will speak about their experience on the disruptions and uncertainties. Following this each participant will comment on some of the points raised by the other panellists and pass on their own message to the PM community.

Topic: The Project Economy Has Arrived, and Why Project Management Had to Be Reinvented

Today, about 70% of projects fail to deliver their objectives. Considering that every year approximately 48 trillion US dollars are invested in projects, we fail to deliver trillions of benefits, value, and impact in organizations and society at large. If we increase our success ratio from 30% to 60%? Just imaging the amount of value that we would be adding to the world, approximately the GDP of China in extra benefit. To achieve this incredible goal, project management and projects managers will need to reinvent themselves.

Topic: The world is big and salvation lurks everywhere - Typical psychological phenomena and their effect in projects.

Flexible organizational forms such as networks, clan organizations or project alliances are taking their place. The tasks that have to be performed frequently present themselves in new, often unpredictable ways. Human behavior is the master key.

Topic: Climate Change and Sustainability

A large number of the world's leading companies and financial markets have made up their minds: their money is on its way to a low-emission economy. This means that the market for low-emission products and solutions is growing, while the market for high-carbon products is stagnating and will soon shrink. Countries, companies and investors now have a once-in-a-generation opportunity to scale zero-carbon industries in the 2020s, to create prosperous growth and more resilient economies. The countries that create lucrative conditions and incentives for the new solutions will win big time in getting investments, new jobs and export income.

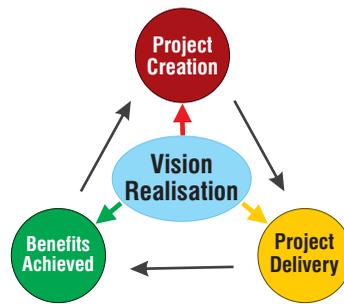

The remaining eight speakers for the Day 3, December 17 are to be published in the next version of the Brochure.

WPMF

World Project Management Forum

Charter

Today is a result of our actions of yesterday. The only thing we can do today is to build tomorrow. DNA of future lies in present. In fact, the word project is derived from the Latin word 'projectum' which implies 'to throw something forward'.

The Charter of the World Project Management Forum (WPMF) is for a continual exchange of ideas to address major concerns and solutions through best and next practices deployed in the front end of vision realisation i.e. project creation by taking full cognizance of technological advancements and sustainability considerations such as impact on climate change. Vision realisation should balance economic, social and ecological considerations. The finer aspects of the vision realisation must be integrative in meeting demands of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. The Charter also encourages the exchange of ideas for the other two aspects, namely project delivery and benefits realisation. That is because optimising project delivery needs to be linked with the benefits visualised at the time of project creation.

Project management is the art and science of converting vision into reality. This reality can only be achieved by undertaking of projects. It is estimated that over 25% of global GDP, that is, almost $20 trillion is delivered via projects. We need more advocacy to establish projects as a medium to transform vision to reality.

In a generic sense, there are three broad aspects to Vision Realisation (VR). The first aspect of VR is in project creation implying the front end of aligning stakeholders with governance and in-built transparency acting as a common denominator across the entire cycle of VR. Project creation is driven either in anticipation of, or due to, compulsions of change focussing on 'Why' and 'Why Not' aspects. This front end or macro aspects of project management i.e. project creation is the master key for success of vision realisation. Obviously, this phase of project creation has a major impact on achieving both tangible and intangible benefits as initially visualised.

The other two aspects of VR are that of project delivery (traditional project management at the micro level) and benefits achieved (outcome) linked with the visualised benefits at the time of project creation.

When does the phase of a project delivery cycle start? It is when the sponsoring organization starts spending resources on the project delivery leading to project outcome or benefits achieved.

Society is facing many challenges in today's dynamic, unpredictable and disruptive Volatile-Uncertain-Complex-Ambiguous (VUCA) world that requires a global understanding and convergence of the cyberspace, the physical space and bio space given the context of fourth industrial revolution in thinking amongst stakeholders. Some of the most significant issues and challenges that needs to be addressed includes sustainability of planet earth and the uncertainties caused due to technological breakthroughs and disruptions. We need to be agile in understanding unpredictable factors and in dynamically recalibrating the benefits visualised at the time of project creation.

The World Project Management Forum (WPMF) will also catalyse the development of a 'Project Mindset' to deal with uncertainties by taking a 'holistic' global view keeping in view Vasudeva Kutumbakam – the 'whole world is a family' which is a reality today in an increasingly global inter-connected world with multi-cultural complexities which can be leveraged.

वसुधैव कुटुम्बकम् – The whole world is a family.

Since we floated the idea of WPMF in March 2019, we have received very enthusiastic response in initiating the WPMF Meet from over 150 professionals across the world.

I am very excited about your vision, Adesh! (Andy Kaufman, USA)

It is amazing how one simple page can offer such breadth and depth and have the potential for significant world-wide impact. Good for you! I wholeheartedly agree with your emphasis on the front end visualization as one of the key project success factors. (Drew Davison, Canada)

“Congratulations! This is a great and important initiative that the world needs. The project management profession needs a higher purpose. (David L Pells, USA)

Congratulations on this initiative! I have long shared this view and have worked on many projects where focusing up front has made enormous difference. (Yvonne Butler, Australia)

I find your initiative excellent and timely. I'm happy to support it. (Veikko Valila, Finland)

I think this initiative is timely, for at least three reasons.
One: It is clear and becoming even clearer that society is facing many challenges that require a global response. Over 25% of GDP is delivered via projects. (Peter Morris, UK)

This appears to me as a timely initiative. I fully support your initiative. (Gilles Caupin, France)

I personally believe is an excellent endeavour - a global platform for all project professionals across the world. (Md. Abdullah Al Mamoon, Bangladesh)

I think the focus of the new organization should be to use good procedures of project analysis, project development, project feasibility studies,.... Projects with poor front end result in over budget and behind schedule. (Robert Youker, USA)

You've tapped into a real need that is enthusing some of our senior colleagues. I support the idea. (David Hillson, UK)

I really like the idea because we do need to lift PM to a much broader discussion. (Bill Young, Australia)

I consider your idea exceptional and intriguing. (Tomasz Wrzesiewski, Poland)

This is an excellent initiative to improve the macro level of project visualisation. (Pevvila, Villar Diaz, Victor, Peru)

Projects & Program Management
(a section 8 not for profit company)

About Organisers

Centre for Excellence in Project Management (P) Ltd. (CEPM), formed in 1992 laid the scientific foundation of project management in India through the International conference it organised in association with UNDP in 1992. CEPM has exposed millions on project management through TV, national newspapers, interviews and conducted 1000+ programs on varied aspects of project and program management. CEPM is your trusted project management partner. CEPM's flagship curriculum, Totality of Project Management which has exhaustive coverage of entire PM processes from concept to commissioning across 8 project life cycle phases covering hard and soft skills and addressing India specific issues is in line with NITI Aayog's recommendations for the project management curriculum.

International Institute of Projects and Program Management (i2P2M), a non-profit company was incorporated in 2008 as a Section 8 company with the vision to equip project leaders, managers and professionals across central / state government, public & private sector companies and research institutions to handle the complexity of tomorrow. It's aim is to build their Knowledge, Competency and Leadership through comprehensive learning with it's application at the workplace, exposure to best practices, relevant case studies, real time computer based simulation of complex project and leadership scenarios and sharing of experience and success stories with industry stalwarts from India and abroad. i2P2M administers the flagship credential, the Certificate in Project Management and is the only Indian company with ISO 17024:2012 accreditation in project management.
