

Universities with Student Members in PM World Library

While the PM World Library (PMWL) is intended to support continuous learning for PM professionals at all levels, it is proving especially useful for students. Hundreds of students around the world have now registered as student members in the PM World Library. Below are some examples of universities where these students are studying, many in graduate programs. Students receive 2 years of free PMWL membership. If you are a student at an accredited university anywhere in the world, register now.

111	Universities represented in PMWL membership (note 1)	689
-----	---	-----

Total Active PMWL Student Registrations = 748

Note 1: The above universities were identified during member registrations in recent months. Unfortunately, university affiliation was not retained in the PMWL member database for all registrations before June 2016, so there are more schools represented among library members than noted above.
